

SKYVIEW SHADES™ BY WILCO PRODUCTS

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Unwrap shade and side rail packages. Be careful not to misplace the bag with screws and clips.

2. Unroll shade so that it appears as it will in the window.

3. Check the size of the shade with the size of the window opening. If the shade has to be shortened or lengthened, adjust the strings in the bottom rail by tightening or loosening the turnbuckle. If additional adjustment is needed, retie the cords attached to the turnbuckle.

4. Adjust the rails so that they are all parallel to each other.

5. Screw the clips into the window shaft for attaching the headrail and bottomrail. These should be positioned about 3" from the end of each rail or on wide shades, opposite where the cords go through the shade fabric - both top and bottom. (Shades over 36" wide require a 3rd clip mounted in the center.) Leave 3" from the skylight window to the shade. This allows sufficient space for heat to dissipate into the room air. (Leave about 12" for Pleated Room Darkening shades)

6. Side rails are included which will enable you to block off all light gaps on each side of the shade, cover up irregularities in your window shaft, and guide long shades. They are optional. If you plan to use them, cut them down to the correct size - to match the exact height of the shade as it is assembled in the window shaft. Either leg of the side rail can be used to face towards the room. It is generally preferred to have the short 3/4" leg face inward. Drill holes in the leg which will butt the shaft walls.

Drill holes within 3/8" of each side - not in the center which will interfere with the shade travel - preferably towards the outside edge.

Install the side rails ¼” below the shade. Longer shades will use the side rails to traverse along.

7. Snap the shade into the clips. If the shade sags or is too tight, readjust the turnbuckle.

8. To open and close the shade insert the end of the telescopic pole into the recess in the moving rail and push the shade upward or downwards. To avoid having the shade rails become out of parallel pull the shade from directly below the recess in the moving rail.

NOTE: If shades are left in an open position (blocking out the sun) for a very long time they may take on a set thereby not allowing them accordion fold close again. This is normal for all polyester pleated shades. To overcome this, manually close the shade so that all the pleats are folded neatly and let the shade stay that way for a day or so under the sun. The fabric will regain its normal pleated memory.
